Windows 10

The best devices in the world run Windows 10 Pro.

Now that businesses across the world have been forced to adjust to remote working, offices have become less important. The real value is in staying productive, wherever you happen to be. That's where having the right kit can help.

Common challenges for remote workers find communication and collaboration challenging report not being able to unplug

experience distractions at home

These challenges can be solved using a combination of specialized technology and learning new ways of working.

ACCOMPLISH MORE WITH THE RIGHT TOOLS

Versatile and powerful laptops are vital for working on the move, but you can significantly boost productivity by adding an external keyboard, mouse and monitor at home.

Research shows using multiple monitors can improve productivity by up to 42%.¹

External keyboards can provide more comfort, customized key configuration and improved ergonomics.

For detailed work, a large external display with high specs will help you work much faster than on a smaller screen.

STAY FOCUSED ON YOUR WORK

Remote work requires discipline. It helps to set up a dedicated workspace in your home that allows you to focus.

To maintain concentration for yourself and others, consider a mouse with a silent clicking function.
