

4 ways your end users are changing

The Lenovo ThinkPad® Z-Series, with business-ready AMD Ryzen™ PRO 6000 Series processors, was created for your new generation of users.

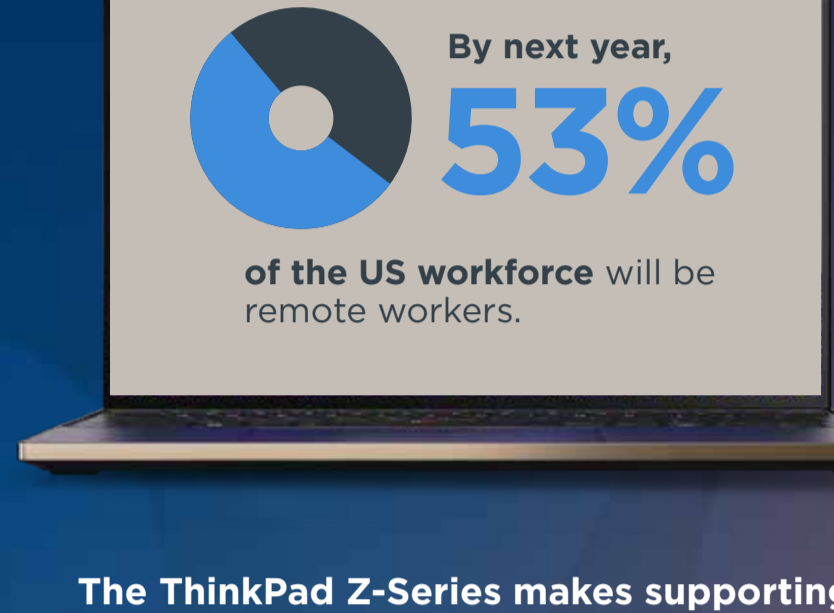

The face of work has changed. IT professionals are supporting a new generation of creative, inspired individuals who are reshaping work to fit their daily lives and their values.

The ThinkPad Z-Series was built for what they want:

1 Flexible work

Work should fit life. The new workforce demands flexible work options, including the ability to work from anywhere (WFA).

The ThinkPad Z-Series makes supporting flexible work a breeze with all-day battery life, immersive collaboration features, and intrinsic security.

2 Modern devices

The new workforce was raised on technology and expects transformative design and power in their devices.

The ThinkPad Z-Series is sleek and modern without sacrificing enterprise-class productivity. Advance that productivity even further with optional Lenovo Premier Support — a direct 24/7/365 line to our most elite technicians.

3 Visionary collaboration

Flexible work, and the power to be creative anywhere, are meaningless without the ability to share. Remote meetings are the future, and your workforce needs to be ready.

The Lenovo ThinkPad Z-Series offers immersive collaboration with studio-quality conferencing, the largest screen-to-body ratio of any ThinkPad, and powerful AMD Ryzen™ PRO 6000 Series processors to keep meetings smooth and productive.

4 Sustainable approach

26% of Millennials and 28% of Generation Zers consider sustainability issues to be their top concern.<sup>4</sup>

70%

of Millennials say sustainability affects how long they stay at a company.<sup>5</sup>

The Z-Series is built with recyclable materials and packaged in compostable containers, reducing environmental impact. The optional CO<sub>2</sub> Offset Services help you address social responsibility concerns and contribute to a more sustainable future at the click of a button.

Revolutionize the technology experience for the new-generation workforce with the Lenovo ThinkPad Z-Series.
